Happy Holidays and Merry Christmas!

Yes I said Happy Holidays, because while I am Christian and I celebrate the birth of Christ this time of year I respect that others have their own celebrations that are equally important to them. The holiday season this year for me comes with mixed emotions. Christmas is always my favorite time of year and Thanksgiving is usually a time of friends gathered for hunting and feasting. This year however I lost my heart dog Brandi just as we entered the holiday season. Grief can make it hard to feel festive and social. We scaled our annual Thanksgiving party back to just a few friends and family and Christmas will be quiet with just our family gathered around. This holiday season I encourage you to reflect on those things that are important. While this newsletter issue contains a lot of brags and successes with results of our two specialties, at the end of the day what matters more than anything is the dog you go home with. As Brandi was saying good bye to me, I reflected on all her awards that are proudly displayed through my household. In those final moments, they meant nothing to me, I would have traded them all for more time with her. Hug your loved ones, four legged and two, cherish each and every moment, taking none of it for granted. This holiday season and in the coming new year, celebrate that which matters most.

Sheila

O Christmas Tree...

Keeping your Vizsla and other pets safe during the holidays can be a difficult task. There are the ornaments, plants, presents, lights -- oh, and who could forget the Christmas tree Let's take a look at some simple steps that will allow your Vizsla to join in the holiday fun this year, while avoiding any trips to the animal emergency room.

Christmas Tree Tips:

1. Place your Christmas tree in a corner, blocked off from your pets' wanting eyes. If this doesn't keep your Vizsla (or other pets) from attempting to jump onto the tree, you can place aluminum foil, a plastic drink bottle filled with knick knacks, or anything else that creates noise on the tree's bottom limbs to warn you of an impending tree disaster.
2. Tinsel can add a nice sparkling touch to the tree, but make sure you hang it up out of your Vizsla's reach. Ingesting the tinsel can potentially block his/her intestines, which is generally only remedied through surgical means.
3. Do not put lights on the tree's lower branches. Not only can your Vizsla get tangled up in the lights, they are a burning hazard. Additionally, your Vizsla (or other pet) may inadvertently get shocked by biting through the wire.
4. Ornaments need to be kept out of reach, too. In addition to being a choking and intestinal blockage hazard, shards from broken ornaments may injure paws, mouths, or other parts of your Vizsla's body.
5. For those buying a live Christmas trees this year, keep the area free and clear of pine needles. While they may not seem dangerous, the needles can puncture intestines if ingested.

Other Great Holiday Item Tips:

1. Did you know holly, mistletoe, and poinsettia plants are poisonous to Vizslas and other pets? If you normally use these plants to decorate your home, they should be kept in an area your pet cannot reach.
2. Edible tree decorations -- whether they be ornaments, or cranberry or popcorn strings -- are like time bombs waiting to happen. These goodies are just too enticing and your Vizsla will surely tug at them, knocking down your wonderfully decorated spruce.
3. Burning candles should be placed on high shelves or mantels, out of the way -- there's no telling where a wagging tail may end up. Homes with fireplaces should use screens to avoid accidental burns.
4. To prevent any accidental electrocutions, any exposed indoor or outdoor wires should be taped to the wall or the sides of the house.
5. When gift wrapping, be sure to keep your Vizsla away. Wrapping paper, string, plastic, or cloth could cause intestinal blockages. Scissors are another hazard, and they should be kept off floors or low tables.

We don't want to ruin all your holiday decorating fun. By all means, go crazy sprucing up your home and wrapping presents. But make sure you do in a way that is safe for your Vizslas and other pets this holiday season.

Summer 2015 Specialty Recap

Submitted By Dee Smiley

Remember our hot Summer Specialty?

Well, that is what we were expecting. After weeks of sun, various Show Chairs were exchanging emails on the topic of misters for dogs and their people. August 14 dawned cool and cloudy; by the end of the day, Vizslas were showing their versatility running down-and-backs in the rain. Then the fun really started! The canopies protecting the tables for the BBQ and auction occasionally filled to capacity and dumped their load. Many a person standing too near the edge of a canopy got cold water down their neck, to the great amusement of those not so doused. But some of those soon got their comeuppance!

I am pleased to report that entry increased over 2014:

	2014	2015
Beg. Puppies	2	5
Juniors	1	2
Sweeps	7	16
Vet. Sweeps	8	9
Conformation	61	75
Obedience	6	6
Rally	3	3

4-6 Month Puppy Competition

Take a look at the pictures – much to brag about. I was glad that both the Juniors/Sweeps judge, Rachel Romano Kelly, and the Conformation judge, Carmen Haller, attended the after show festivities (despite the rain!), giving members a chance to chat with them. Plus they shared their very positive remarks of what they saw in the ring.

The photo contest was popular and will be back in 2016.

2015 PSVC SUMMER SPECIALTY WINNER

Best of Breed & Best Owner Handler

CH Jaseni Le Tierah's Total Power Trip

Owner handled by Eleesa Markham

It has been my pleasure to serve as show chair these two years. I have learned much, and enjoyed getting to know several of you better. There are a number of areas for which I was worry-free:

Filing the lengthy AKC forms, taken care of by Jill; Ordering, soliciting donations for, and arranging trophies and ribbons, expertly done by Sheila; recruiting excellent obedience ring stewards – Katrina's contacts. The three of them make a hardworking, supportive and knowledgeable Show Committee. And I mustn't forget the excellent after show meal, with the main course and general organization provided by Mike with help from Sheila. Or was that the other way around?! Many others stepped forward to take care of gift and welcome bags, RV parking, and the auction, as well as the many day-of-show tasks, and

I thank you all. Now, it is someone else's turn. I have documented much of what is required, am happy to mentor and will serve as Obedience Chair. Based on my experience, I say it is critical that, in addition to a Show Chair, someone fills the role of Hospitality Chair. That will go a long way in reducing burn-out for the Show Chair! Please step forward – preparation for the 2016 show starts right after the New Year.

Respectfully submitted, Dee Smiley

"Brandi"

Bred by Jim and Jill Brennan,

Loved by Mike, Sheila, Kristina and Jessica Wald

11/19/2002 – 10/26/2015

I could never have imagined all the places a little red collared puppy we named Brandi when she helped herself to Mike's beer would take us. I could write pages of all the things she did, the awards she won, many of which are quite impressive, considering how green we were and how young her handler was. Not only did she shine in her prime, but she was even better as a Veteran. She only had two litters, but those 6 offspring, grandkids and great grandkids have continued to make her proud. Their accomplishments made her Top Producing dam and Top 10 Versatile producer. With a heart that was failing she still impressed judges enough to earn awards just months before she passed.

Amazing as she was in the ring and as a mother, her greatest gift was who she was. She had a soul that could sense and touch people in a way that I treasure more than any Ribbon or trophy she ever earned. She was my daughter's 4H project dog and we spent many hours at County and State fairs. Brandi would seek out people who needed a healing touch. I can't count how many wheelchair bound laps she would quietly place her head in, or the children she would seek out. One year our club had a child with special needs. He was determined to be a part of Fair, even though the atmosphere was challenging. Brandi took him under her wing and throughout fair you could find the two of them snuggled up together, napping amid the chaos. While she was angel most of the time, oh she could be naughty! I was sure she would make "death by chocolate" a reality. Champion counter surfer, she never missed an opportunity for food. Much of my baking made an untimely demise due to Brandi. She had many loves and few dislikes, the camera being one of them, readily apparent in almost all her show photos.

I have struggled to write this remembrance of Brandi. I have started and rewrote countless times, amid numerous tears. How do you capture nearly 13 years of companionship and love of such a special dog in words? In Brandi all the longings of my childhood heart for a dog that was uniquely mine like every story I had ever read was fulfilled. She was always by my side, she slept curled against my chest from the time she was four months old until the day she died. I miss having my breakfast toast stolen when I turned my back to get my tea. I miss the warmth of her body snuggled close to mine, the sound her breathing, her deep contented grunting sigh of contentment, the way she would look up at me or kiss my face just to say "I am here". The sound of her tail "knocking" on the door, the bump of her nose on the knob, telling me she needed to be where I was. Her happy head wag, fluffing her lips for a treat, singing for dinner. Helping me dry after a shower and begging to be blow dried. Tricking the rest of the dogs to go outside so she could have my lap to herself.

It's a rare and precious gift to have a "heart dog" a dog that touches your soul profoundly, who "sees" you. She loved me deeply despite my shortcomings and taught me what it was to love others who were unlovable at times. She brought so many experiences and friends into my life shaping who I am today. She taught me how to be a better dog owner, trainer, parent, friend and person. She was God's temporary gift to me, sent for a purpose. In the end it was that great enormous heart of hers that could no longer carry on. After happily bouncing out of my bed, she collapsed on her bed. When she refused to eat her breakfast my heart broke. When the vet said "Her heart is HUGE" I thought I know that, but then realized in this case it was not a good thing, her heart was failing. God gave me three more precious days to say goodbye. She took a piece of my heart with her, but left oh so much of hers. God speed Boo Boo, until we see you again at Heaven's gate.

"Tessa"

Bred by Mary Gaudio & Susan Muir

Loved by Valorie, Andy and Dawson Bordon

5/14/14 – 10/29/15

It's with sad hearts that we share that we lost our sweet Tessa through a tragic accident on October 29th. Tessa was a complex creature; a combination of sensitive, eager nature crossed with stubborn independence and giddy joy. She was also beautiful, so close to earning her Championship, with both majors secured and only a few points to go. Most of all Tessa was our "baby girl" with her wild wigglebutt greetings, madly trying to kiss us with a shoe in her mouth, her evening cuddles and her playful happiness. We loved her and miss her very much.

Reduce Inflammation, Improve Detoxification and Promote Repair

This article is a collaborative effort between W. Jean Dodds, DVM and Adam J. Lassin, DVM. Lassin recently joined Hemopet as a veterinary practitioner.

Like most humans our pets can develop arthritis as they age. All joints can be affected; hips, shoulders, wrists and elbows. Our pets will begin to show signs of arthritis by being less active, lame, trouble getting up, and reluctance in jumping and lethargic. The main treatment offered by conventional veterinary visits includes non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), prescription diets, glucosamine/chondroitin and Adequan injections. However, there are many more holistic/alternative options we have to help decrease inflammation secondary to arthritis, detoxify toxins that promote the inflammatory response, and repair/improve joint health.

Diet alone is one of the most important factors in helping improve our pets' quality of life when it comes to arthritis. Most veterinarians will prescribe prescription diets that contain grains (glutens) and have joint supplements added to the kibble, along with anti-inflammatory medications. Most of the NSAID medications can cause damage or injury to tissues of the liver, kidneys, and bone marrow with long term use. Many processed grains and omega-6 fatty acids contain pro-inflammatory precursors found in some of these commercial diets. Another common ingredient found in pet food is white potato, which has been shown to promote inflammation, as have other members of the nightshade family of plants, such as peppers and eggplant. The sweet potato surprisingly has anti-inflammatory properties, a fact largely unknown to many people. Please remember that it is a different plant species from the white potato. Nutrigenomics, described below, can be applied to optimize our pets' diets to help decrease the inflammatory response in the body.

Nutrigenomics is a new emerging science that studies the molecular relations between nutrition and the response of genes in promoting health. Applying nutrigenomic principles has shown that the diet possesses significant health promoting properties including the management of pain, and not that just caused by arthritis. Diet plays an important role which can alter gene expression and protein/metabolite production. Specific nutrients found in the diet change the body's response in a form defined as a "signature" or "molecular dietary signature".

There are five basic concepts of Nutrigenomics. The diet can be a serious risk factor for a number of diseases. Ingredients found in certain foods act on the animal's DNA make-up directly and indirectly to alter gene expression. Nutrigenomics affects every individual differently based on that individual's genetic makeup. Various foods act upon certain regulated genes in the body that effect the onset, incidence, progression, and/or severity of chronic diseases, such as arthritis. Based on an individual animal's nutritional requirement and DNA, diet can be used to prevent, treat, or cure chronic disease.

Nutrients, amino acids, vitamins and supplements found in food can be used to balance and strengthen the immune system. Immune function requires many key nutrients that includes zinc, selenium, vitamin E, vitamins B12 and B6, vitamin C, vitamin D, linoleic acid, and carotene (lutein and beta-carotene). Many natural sterols and sterolins found in fruits, vegetables, and medicinal plants combine to improve immune system homeostasis. Natural antioxidants include vitamin E and C, citric acid, rosemary, turmeric (curcumin), oregano, and blueberries.

Many alternative supplements are available for our pets which can accomplish the above:

Glucosamines from shellfish, bones, and some fungi are precursors of the glycosaminoglycans found in joint cartilage.

Grape Seed Extract is a powerful antioxidant. It also has anti-carcinogenic and strong anti-inflammatory properties.

Bee Pollen has been used for many different properties including its anti-inflammatory function. More of the health benefits of bee pollen such as anti-cancer and its antibiotic properties, and immune boosting have not been fully explained.

Royal Jelly is milky substance made from digested pollen, honey, and a chemical secreted from the pharyngeal glands in the heads of worker bees. It is used for its anti-inflammatory and immune boosting properties similar to that of Bee Pollen.

Ginger is used mostly for digestion, but also for arthritis.

MSM (MethylSulfonylMethane) acts as a natural anti-inflammatory for joints.

Polyunsaturated Fatty Acids (ALA, EPA, DHA) come from many fish and plant oils of wild salmon, sardines, herring, cod, trout, green lipped mussel, anchovies, krill, algae extract, flax seed, hemp, olive, canola, and soybean. These are used for their anti-inflammatory properties.

Propolis (resin) is found on the buds, bark and leaves of deciduous trees and some vegetables, and can be used for its analgesic pain controlling properties.

Deer or Elk Velvet helps alleviate arthritic symptoms by rebuilding cartilage, improving joint fluid, increasing tissue and cellular healing times, and improving circulation. It contains many beneficial ingredients; proteins, amino acids, collagen, lipids, minerals/trace elements; calcium, phosphorus, sulphur, magnesium, potassium, sodium, manganese, zinc, copper, iron, selenium, cobalt, growth factors, glycosaminoglycans, glucosamine, chondroitin, phospholipids, prostaglandins, and hyaluronic acid. Growth Factor IGF 1 (Insulin growth factor) and IGF 2 are both found naturally in deer and elk velvet. IGF 1 influences cellular growth that involves every cell in the body. Muscle, cartilage, bone, and many other organs in the body are positively affected. IGF 2 works with IGF 1 to promote cellular growth and organ development.

Green Lipped Mussel (Perna canaliculus) decreases inflammation by inhibiting enzyme which is responsible for transforming essential fatty acids into inflammatory leukotrienes (mediators of inflammation from white blood cells). Contains important nutrients, proteins, amino acids, glycosaminoglycans, chondroitin, hyaluronic acid, and proteoglycan.

Thymus Glandular enhances, improves, and maintains a strong immune system.

Green (or Black) Tea Leaf Extract has potent antioxidant and anti-inflammatory properties which come from the tannins and polyphenols in teas.

DLPA (D,L Phenylalanine) is an essential amino acid and endorphin stimulant to help control chronic bone and muscle pain.

Turmeric (curcumin) is a relative of ginger, comes from the middle east; India and Pakistan. It is a potent antioxidant. It also has anti-carcinogenic and strong anti-inflammatory properties.

Traumeel (by Heel) is a popular homeopathic remedy for aches & pains. The ingredients include Aconitum napellus (wolfsbane), Arnica montana (leopard's bane), Belladonna (deadly nightshade), Bellis perennis (garden daisy), Calendula officinalis (marigold), Chamomilla (ground apple), Echinacea (purple cone flower), Hamamelis virginiana, Hepar sulphuris calcareum, Mercuris solubilis, Millefolium, Symphytum officinale (comfrey).

Other useful supplements include boswellia, andrographis paniculata (King of bitters), hawthorn, licorice, nettle leaf, yucca root, raw apple cider vinegar, and willow bark (relative of aspirin, but do not combine with NSAIDs), and other herbal therapies.

"Wholesome nutrition is a key component for maintaining a healthy immune system and resistance to disease."

Fall 2015 Monroe Specialty Recap

Submitted By Gale Shay

This is the third year for our Fall Specialty held in November as a Concurrent Specialty with Whidbey Island Kennel Club. As show chair for this event, I would say this year went without a hitch, counts a little lower, but still made a major in bitch-es. I was also told by Gail Fleming (treasurer) that, as in years past, we still made a little money, so stayed within the budget, and did so even without a raffle! Thanks to all who came out on this rainy, blustery weekend, to Sheila and Mike Wald who braved the passes and made our judging table shine, and a shout out to Mary Gaudio, who once again offered to all participants, her Annual Doggy Thanksgiving celebration with good food, and a chance to kick back and enjoy PSVC members and just "talk dogs"! -Gale

Dawson recently earned two titles, of which we are very proud. He is now Gch Am/Int'l Ch Jaybren's Trouble in Mind RN. Dawson came to the Enumclaw shows ready to go and with Jayme at the lead, flirted his way to three Selects, all being 5 point majors. Dawson finished his Grand Championship at his next show in Wenatchee with another Select, again with Jayme's expert handling. Also at Enumclaw, Dawson and I squeaked through his last Rally Novice leg to earn his first "skill" title. Love our handsome boy.

PSVC Best Puppy in Sweeps

A big Thank You to Greg Dutson for showing our puppy, Turq, for the Best In Sweeps win at the November PSVC Specialty in Monroe! Turq has garnered 9 points towards her AKC Championship, and picked up a BOB from the classes at 8 months! She is a fun dog, and takes on her many activities with much exuberance. She currently attends Nose Work Classes, Agility for young puppies, and continues her hunt training.

I am thrilled with these pups from this pairing of Lela (GCH Kelby Creek's Spirit of Kilauea JH) to Mojo (Can RBIS GCH/AM MBISS/Int'l CH Renaissance Kiss's Casanova JH), with three of them garnering BOB from the puppy classes, including a Canadian Grand Championship for litter sister, Taiga as a 6 month old going BOB over specials! Excited for what the new year brings for them!

Owner Handler Series Reserve Best In Show

In three shows in Conroe Texas, and the first show in Orlando (Space Coast, I think) "Billy" CH Kelby Creek's Wild Bill was awarded BOS each day for four consecutive grand champion majors, finishing his GCH at the Space Coast Show. At Eukanuba Billy received an Award of Excellence and Best Bred by Exhibitor. Last year his mother, Cleopatra got BOS and Best Bred by Exhibitor. Although the Awards of Excellence are not ranked, the judge pointed to Billy and said "First Award of Excellence" and did not rank the other awards, so at least to me she let me know what she thought of him. Pretty good for a 15 month puppy who is still a little shy. Billy also got BOH at one of the other Orlando shows.

"Annie" GCH Kelby Creek's Annie Oakley got a Reserve Best in Show at the Wenatchee Owner Handler Series Competition. She then went on to get a Group 4 in the owner handler competition in Conroe Texas, and a BOH in Orlando at one of the shows as well. As Annie got kennel cough and hives on the trip, she was not in top form, especially since she also lost a lot of weight due to being sick. She is OK now, and eating again.

One final thing is that I would like to give Ken Hopping a huge "Award of Merit" for his efforts in caring for and saving "Tiny Tim". Cleopatra had puppies two days before I left for Texas, and Ken thought caring for the puppies would be easy. However, Cleopatra had one puppy that was 3.9 oz. with not enough strength to nurse, although he could swallow. Ken fed that baby every four hours for three plus weeks and Timmy is now doing well. Although he is still small compared to his litter mates, he has made the greatest percentage increase in weight and is now eating independently. There is no question in my mind that Ken's diligence saved that puppy's life.
